Hundreds of people not only from this city, but also from surrounding centers turned out Sunday to attend the first Sunday service held in St. Peter's new church.

Among the features of the initial service was a lecture by Monsignor Dunn, of Chicago, and singing by the Girls' chorus of the local high school.

Father Frawley announces that the formal dedication of the beautiful place of worship will not take place until some time in August, when His Eminence, Cardinal Mundelein, can be present.

Grand opening of the new hall will take place Saturday night, April 5, at which time there will be a chicken dinner served and unusual entertainment provided.

DON'T BE ONE-SIDED

It is an old saying that clowns never laugh off stage. Sounds funny that these fellows who are constantly raising gales of laughter from their fellow-men should be solemn or sad and one is attempted to brand it as another of these foolish sayings.

The evidence is convincing, however. The old saying is doubtless true, in general at least. There is psychology for it; if the pendulum is swung in one direction it will not go back to normal and stop there, but will go the same distance in the opposite direction. Bend a tree, or a bow and it will act like a pendulum when it is released. A bent man is the same. No doubt the clerk in the store who smiles a welcome all day long to the customers is often quite a cross-patch at home in the evenings. On the other hand, our morticians, who must preserve a solemn face in their day's work, must be rather jolly companions when off duty.

A man should realize this human tendency and not permit himself to become one-sided. There is a time to laugh and a time to weep, and the well regulated, well tuned individual can do either at the proper time. He will not stay bent too long in any one direction. Too much clowning makes a man sad; too much gloom makes him funny.

AUTOMOBILE HEADLIGHT MENACE

When the automobile made its first practical appearance a quarter of a century ago, many of the horse-drawn vehicles were adapted to the "new fangled contraption". Early autos used rubber-tired carriage wheels, carriage dash boards, and even carriage seats once a part of their equipment. But one by one these "hold-overs" gave way to improvements original with the auto until now only one old-fashioned idea remains—namely, the night lights intended to both guide and warn.

It is time that these lights have been considerably improved—all way to acetylene gas and that in turn was succeeded by electricity, but nothing has been done with respect to the position of the lights. The headlights of the modern automobile occupy almost the same relative position that old lamps did on the horse-drawn vehicles.

This neglect of improvement is especially pertinent in view of the fact that headlights are held responsible for many accidents. Their blinding glare is due usually to the high position they occupy. Regulations with respect to dimming lights when two cars approach each other does not seem to lessen the evil much. The Utopian dream of adequate street lighting may not be realized for generations to come. The only immediate cure is to place the lights so they will shine on the roadway instead of into the autoists' eyes.

With the ever increasing number of cars on our highways, headlights become a constantly bigger problem. It is no longer a case of meeting an occasional auto on the road, but a case of meeting streams of cars. Not only are glaring lights a menace to the autoists, but they endanger the people who walk along the side of the road. Seeing how bright most car lights are, the pedestrian feels secure, but probably all motorists can vouch for the statement that it is virtually impossible for a driver to see anything in front of his car if he is in the glare of the lights of an oncoming machine. Hence, the many accidents from this very cause.

HERO WORSHIP

Let a champion pugilist, a record home-run hitter, a foreign statesman, a daring aviator, or a moving picture star pass through an American town and the people stop their business to rubber, and a large mob collects to crowd around and follow the hero or heroine wherever he or she may go. If the distinguished visitor goes into a building, the patient mob waits for him to come out again—just to see him again or be able to say they have seen him.

We were not always that way. Historical facts reveal the fact that 100 years ago so distinguished a character as the president of the United States could be present at a social function with the majority of the people not even knowing that he was there.

Why this immense change? There are many causes, one of the most important being the development of the newspaper, which makes known to the public when a famous personage is to make his appearance. Expatiating at length about the distinguished visitor, the town sheet throws the residents into such a state of excitement that they are not content until they have made arrangements to follow the crowd.

FLORIDA SETS GOOD EXAMPLE

That by applying business methods to government, Florida operated its machinery of government in 1929 at a saving of more than $1,250,000, and a drop in total expenditures of more than $5,600,000, is the claim of the governor of the state.

By reorganization, the payroll of seven major departments was cut $722,000.

By applying business methods to road maintenance, by proper engineering, business methods in office work and purchasing, reorganizing field forces and using modern labor-saving machinery, the cost per mile was reduced from $523.48 in 1928, to $298.11 in 1929, making a total saving in this department of $499,817.61.

Business men have been asked to assist in forming the most applicable and most equitable taxation method for State government. It is to be a co-operative problem, worked jointly by bodies of law making and representative business men.

Florida encourages investments instead of discouraging them with high taxes.

Old Eagle Eye Says--

Tuesday was one day this year when Antioch folks harmonized in opinion. Bet you'll have to stretch your imagination to believe it though, because most of the time they agree to disagree and let it go at that. What did they accede to? That Main street was no place for a sociological disquisition.

It used to be: "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy"; now it is: "All work and no play makes 'Jack'".

Wonder if this house was in Antioch? A deputy was sent to take an inventory of the property in a house. When he did not return for three hours, the sheriff went after him, and found him asleep on a lounge in the living room of the house. He had made a brave effort with his inventory, however; he had written down, "Living room—1 table, 1 sideboard, 1 full bottle whiskey". Then the "full" had been crossed out, and "half full" substituted. This was overlined, and "empty" put in its place. At the bottom of the page, in wobbly writing was written: "I revolving carpet".

Nearly every morning while passing certain local places of business, Old Eagle Eye sees scores of those alitricial cooling things, alias pigeons, assembled on the street shouting to each other in strident argument and gesticulating with vehemence. Why? Because each is trying to grab his share of the corn, oatmeal, or what have you!

We "stationary" Antiocheans are enjoying the "spring" weather and we hope those who have just returned from their delightful jaunts in the Land of Sunshine are also getting a big kick out of it.

Epitomizing the experience of more than one local resident, A. B. Johnson sauntered into the News office yesterday morning and said in an exhausted tone, "I thought I'd stop in a while to get a breath".

The victim was an Antioch High school student; he had some kind of a fever (no, not spring); he was ambling listlessly up and down the corridors Wednesday morning chortling, "Merry Christmas, Merry Christmas!"

Large Pores, Blackheads Can Be Prevented or Remedied

Blackheads make any skin look muddy. Also, when pores are clogged with oil and dust, they form an ideal lodging place for bacteria. Although some germs seem comparatively harmless, many others are quite harmful, and will irritate a sensitive skin. These irritations may be only occasional pimples, or they may result in some serious skin disease.

The best way to prevent blackheads and enlarged pores is to keep your skin perfectly clean. To do this, at least once daily smooth cleansing cream over your face and then with soft cleansing tissues gently wipe off the cream. Next, especially if your skin is inclined to be oily, wash your face with warm water and a mild soap. And last, always close your pores with a mild astringent. If you give your face this simple treatment every day, your pores will not enlarge, and blackheads and pimples will have less chance to form.

Many women are troubled with oiliness, enlarged pores or blackheads that appear only on certain parts of the face. The nose seems to be the greatest offender. This is quite natural, because oil glands on the nose are quite large and plentiful. If you are bothered with blackheads and enlarged pores, or your skin seems rather oily, use a mild astringent frequently. And each time before you powder, pat over your nose a piece of cotton saturated with the astringent. Putting layers of powder on top of each other without first cleansing and contracting your pores only increases blackheads and enlarged pores, and does not hide them.

If enlarged pores or blackheads are especially troublesome, apply pore cream after your nightly cleansing to those parts of your face that seem to need it most. Pore cream is easy and pleasant to use. Leave it on all night, and it will contract your pores gently while you sleep.

You may ask, "After I have left pore cream on all night, how shall I remove it in the morning?" I think you will find, unless you have applied a bit too much, that your skin has absorbed nearly all the pore cream. In the morning, cleanse your face with cleansing cream, or if you like, warm water and soap will wash away any surplus pore cream. If you are in a hurry, hastily sponge off your face with a freshening skin tonic.

Do not expect blackheads to go away over night. They have formed slowly, and the only safe way to get rid of them is to use preparations which will act gradually. And of course, do not fuss with your face. Unless your finger tips have been sterilized, you simply will carry more bacteria to your tiny skin pores.

Sally Ann's Adventures —at her home

"Bow-Wow-Wow", said Sally Ann's little brown dog. He was sitting on his hind legs in front of her begging for something to eat. Sally Ann was so intently busy playing with her dolls that she hardly knew that he was speaking to her. He was taught to speak when he was a tiny baby dog and so of course Sally Ann's mamma, who was out in the kitchen, knew why he was saying, "Bow-Wow".

"Come here, Brownie", said Sally Ann's mamma from the kitchen. The minute he heard her voice he went playfully bounding out to where she was standing by the table. What do you think she did? She took a little square of sugar from the sugar bowl and put it on Brownie's head. Then she told Sally Ann to come that she had something to show her. All the while Brownie was just as still as he could be so that he wouldn't shake the loaf of sugar off from his head.

"Help yourself, Brownie", said Sally Ann's mamma and almost instantly he jumped up and with his head threw the sugar up toward the ceiling. Then just as quickly he jumped again and caught the piece right in his mouth. Sally Ann was so surprised she didn't know what to think that her little doggie could perform such a trick as that when he never could before.

Sally Ann's mamma then told her that she had taught him that trick while she was out visiting her grandfather. Sally Ann was so tickled that now she is trying to teach him lots of tricks. You'll hear about these next time and then maybe you boys and girls can teach some of them to your doggies.

Six Delightful New Ways to Enjoy a Familiar Food

Peanut Butter is a well known and very popular sandwich spread, but many of us are not familiar with the great variety of other uses for this highly nutritious food.

Because of its large protein and iron content, Peanut Butter is especially good as a meat substitute. And clever cooks have found that it gives an unusual, nutty flavor to cookies, salads, fudge, cake frosting, muffins, and bread.

Here are a few of the many ways to introduce this valuable body-building food into the daily menu:

Peanut Butter Muffins

Sift together 2 cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1/3 cup sugar, and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Work into the dry ingredients 1/2 cup Peanut Butter, and 2 tablespoons butter or lard. Gradually add 1 cup milk, and bake in a hot oven (about 375 degrees to 400 degrees F.), for twenty minutes.

Peanut Butter Bread

Sift 2 cups flour with 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/3 cup sugar. Work 1/2 cup Peanut Butter into the dry ingredients, and add 1/2 cup milk. Pour into a well-buttered, small bread pan and allow to stand for 20 minutes. Then bake for 30 minutes in a moderate oven (about 350 degrees F.).

Egg and Peanut Butter Salad

Cut 6 hard-boiled eggs in half lengthwise. Remove the yolks, combine with 3 tablespoons Peanut Butter, and add Mayonnaise Salad Dressing to moisten. Fill the egg whites with this mixture. Serve two halves in a nest made of crisp lettuce and short lengths of celery and with a spoonful of Mayonnaise mixed with Chilli Sauce over each egg.

Peanut Butter Fudge

Mix together 2 cups granulated sugar, 1/2 cup milk, 2 heaping tablespoons Peanut Butter and 1 teaspoon Cider Vinegar. Boil the sugar, milk, Peanut Butter and Vinegar slowly, without stirring, until when a few drops are poured into a cupful of water a firm ball is formed. Remove from the fire, cool until lukewarm and beat until creamy. Pour into a buttered pan and cut in squares.

Peanut Butter Frosting

3 tablespoons Peanut Butter, 2 tablespoons cold coffee, 1 tablespoon cream or top milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 1/2 cup Powdered sugar.

Mix Peanut Butter with cream, coffee, and vanilla. When thoroughly mixed, add about 1 1/2 cups sugar sifted gradually until of consistency to spread.

Peanut Butter Cookies

Roll cookie dough 1/4 inch thick. Spread with a thin layer of Peanut Butter (or jam) and roll into a cylinder. Cut in 1/2 inch pieces, and bake in a hot oven 10 to 15 minutes.

CHANNEL LAKE COUNTRY CLUB NEWS

— What Members of Popular Organization Are Doing —

Another engagement of interest among the younger set was announced this last week. At a luncheon given at the South Shore Country Club, Miss Maxine Hafer announced her engagement to Knight Richard Farwell. Mr. Farwell is a young civil engineer and is at present stationed at Bedford, Indiana. No date has been set for the wedding.

Keen interest is being shown in the approaching dinner-dance to be held at the Medinah Athletic Club on Saturday night, March 29. The number of reservations coming in has been most gratifying to those in charge. The trophies won at the various tournaments held last summer will be presented to the winners on this occasion, and it is hoped every winner will be present to receive his gift. Also a statement of the financial condition of the club will be given.

Henry Paulson, 2726 Park Place, Evanston, is waiting to hear from any who may have delayed sending in his reservation.

"Matter" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 23.

The Golden Text was, "Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof; but he that doeth the will of God abideth forever" (1 John 2:15, 17).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit. For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace" (Romans 8:5, 6).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The corporeal senses are the only source of evil or error. . . . Outside the material sense of things, all is harmony" (p. 480).

District

My candidacy for renomination is based on my record as a member of the Illinois Legislature. The record shows that I have stood for more hard roads without expense to the general taxpayers, for a more equitable distribution of taxes to relieve the owners of farms and small homes, for every reasonable relief for agriculture, for economy in state expenditures so that local taxes will be lower and against the scheme of Chicago to redistrict the state and thereby transfer perpetual control of our state to Chicago and its unsavory political gangs.

I am asking for your continued support confident in the belief that I can render further useful service to the people of our district because of the valuable experience and knowledge gained during the years I have served you.

WILMOT GIRL GIVEN SURPRISE PARTY ON FIFTEENTH BIRTHDAY

Charles Lake Re-elected Captain of Basket Ball Team

Twenty friends and relatives surprised Miss Amy Harm on the occasion of her fifteenth birthday Sunday afternoon. Bunco was played and Lucille Hanke and Clarence Kufalk held high scores and Margaret Kufalk and Florence Zarnstorff, low. Following the serving of refreshments, the guests departed, wishing their hostess many more happy birthdays.

The final game of the year at Clinton on March 17 was a defeat for the local school; the score was 25-22. It was the best game the high school team played this year. The final standing of the South Eastern Wisconsin conference finds Wilmot in fourth place with four wins and six losses. Letters were awarded to Rasch, Lake, Bernhoff, DeBell, Hanson, Schmalzfeldt, Oetting, Hartman, Memler and to Fiegel, business manager. At the final meeting of the year, Charles Lake was re-elected captain for the coming year. Prospects for next year are exceptionally bright, because all the men who finished this year will be back. Boxing, track, and baseball will complete the athletic program for the year. The scoring of the basketball team for year 1929-30 follows:

Liberal Lake County Patronage Adds Nearly $14,000 to Zion's $6,000,000 Annual Income

and supplies for the county farm at Libertyville, and that he "soaked" generous old Lake $167.50 for the use of polling places in Zion.

Out of a total of $30,333.98 authorized by the printing committee, Vollva collected $14,321.10.

Who can say the Zion chief did not get his share of county business?

County Patronage Lopsided
Zion Institutions and Industries, a great and efficient business organization under the direction of the dynamic Vollva, no doubt has rendered an honest service to Lake county, and dollar for dollar the county has value received. But that is not the point.

Vollva has 1800 votes at his command, and he knows how to use his political power to get the business and he does get it, according to the report of expenditures authorized by the board of supervisors.

Why does this large patronage continue to go to Zion to contribute so largely to the immense wealth of Vollva, who apparently has little concern for the county at large, and whose interests are chiefly within the walls of the city he rules?

How Others Fared
While Vollva and his Zion Institutions and Industries were collecting nearly $14,000.00 of county funds for that year, let's see how other Lake county firms were blessed with patronage.

According to the reports on printing, the Waukegan Sun and Libertyville Independent, (Lake County Newspapers, Inc.) were paid a total of $12,915.73, $4,133.10 of this being okayed by the printing committee and $8,782.63 in miscellaneous orders by various county officers, including publication of delinquent tax list.

The Waukegan News, Lake County Register and Keystone Printing Service, $4,329.24, divided as follows:

$3,488.89 on authorizations by the printing committee and $840.35 on miscellaneous orders from various county offices.

Hogging the Ring
The Udel Printing Co., Highland Park, publishers of the Highland Park Press, Lake Forester, etc., got $2,095.05. Paul L. Udel of this company was a member of the printing committee, which office he continues to hold.

National Office Supply Co., Waukegan, clicked the county till for $897.07, and the Commercial Printer also of Waukegan, came in for a share of $369.20.

Printers on the western side of the county did not fare so well. The Waukegan Leader received $330.50, and the Grayslake Times $290.95, and most of which in each case was for the publication of assessment lists in the towns where the publications do business, and which publications are required by law to be made in those newspapers.

The Antioch News similarly received $426.80 for required publications that could not be passed to others. For other publications and printing, nothing.

Thus it will be seen that two Lake county printing and publishing concerns gobbled considerably more than half of the $30,333.98 worth of printing orders.

$730,541.00 to Run County
The finance committee in session at the September, 1928, session of the county board of supervisors, recommended appropriations totaling $730,541.00 to meet the estimated expenditures of the county for the fiscal year. With an estimated income from fees and other sources totaling $60,000.00, the committee recommended that an additional $670,541.00 be levied on all taxable property in Lake county. It was recommended that $15,000 be appropriated for "stationery and supplies for county officers" and another $15,000 "for printing expenses (county officers)."

An Illinois statute, Sec. 3 Chapter 102, Ill. Revised Statutes, speak plainly to those persons who hold office, either by election or appointment. It says: "It shall not be lawful for any person, now or hereafter holding any office, either by election or appointment, under the constitution of this state, to become in any manner interested, either directly or indirectly, in his own name or in the name of any other person or corporation, in any contract or the performance of any work in the making or letting of which such officer may be called upon to act or vote. And it shall not be lawful for any such officer to represent, either as agent or otherwise, any person, company or corporation, in respect of any application or bid for any contract or work in regard to which such officer may be called upon to vote. Nor shall any such officer take or receive, or offer to take or receive, either directly or indirectly, any money or other thing of value, as a gift or bribe, or a means of influencing his vote or action in his official character, and any and all contracts made and procured in violation hereof, shall be null and void."

But what has this law to do with the expenditure of public funds in Lake county? Well, it should have something to do with it—but that, and how the three quarters of a million dollars appropriation recommended by Supervisors Vercoe, Moyer, Ficke and Thomas, was spent the following year is the subject of a later story.

ANTIOCH POST No. 748

Legion Auxiliary News

A regular meeting of the Antioch Post of the American Legion last Thursday evening brought out a very good attendance and many activities were discussed. The committee, which has accepted Mr. Swanson's offer, will soon be ready to offer to the public a benefit show of the very best; watch for the dates.

After a heated debate on summer activity, it was decided to hold in Antioch a three-day summer festival on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, July 4, 5, and 6. This festival, which is to be backed up by over sixty-seven members of the local post, will bring to Antioch one of the biggest affairs that the people in this community have ever attended. To give you a slight idea of the temporary plans—there will be arch lighted streets, parades, the big mid-way, bands, noted speakers, entertainment right from Chicago loop and Milwaukee, from Chicago loop and Milwaukee, and all that goes along with the miniature fair; the legion boys only ask that you give them full co-operation.

The one and only thing which will make this affair a success is your placing money in the post building fund.

Wm. Hallwas, post athletic officer, is working on a junior baseball team for the coming year.

OFFICERS LAST MEETING

Mancel Talcott, Waukegan, was elected senior vice-commander of the Lake County Council of the American Legion at its regular monthly meeting held in the Highwood Catholic church assembly hall under the auspices of Stupey-Smith and Evans Watkins posts. Eggert W. Carlson of Highwood was elected junior vice-commander of the district at the same meeting. This completes the roster of council officers.

APRIL 6 FINAL DATE FOR DISABILITY AND COMPENSATION CLAIMS

Monty Rasmussen, Lake county service officer of the American Legion, has received the following report which he deems of great importance to the world war veterans, from Lester R. Benston, department service officer:

Under the World War Veterans' Act, evidence in support of claims for service connection for all disabilities other than nervous mental diseases, spinal meningitis, active tuberculosis, paralytic agitans, encephalitis and dysentery must be filed prior to April 6, 1930. This covers all cases excepting where there is a record of the disability while in the service. April 6, 1930, is also the final date for making original claims for compensation.

office for six consecutive terms, is waging a conservative but persistent campaign among the old friends who have stood by him for years. There is no doubt that Mr. Simpson's long tenure of office will work to his disadvantage, and he will lose many votes from this fact alone. Whether or not he can rally sufficient new voting strength to overcome this handicap is extremely problematical.

Persons and Jack for Judge
The only other contest on the Republican ballot for a county nomination is that of county judge. Perry L. Persons, present incumbent, has as his opponent Charles E. Jack, popular Waukegan attorney.

Law Hendee, county clerk, Martin C. Decker, probate judge, John R. Bullock, probate clerk, and J. R. Morse, treasurer, are without opposition for the Republican nomination for re-election.

Present Assemblymen Favored
Notwithstanding the fact that there are a total of nine Republicans who seek the nomination for the general assembly from the eighth district, astute politicians concede the present Lake county legislators a distinct advantage at the polls on April 8.

Representative Lee McDonough's friends point with pride to his excellent record during the last session when he had four constructive measures passed at Springfield and enacted into law. Chief among these was the law creating the free employment bureau for Lake county. This is conceded to be a most excellent record for a first term.

Alert to all that is going on and always on the job in interests of his district, Representative Richard J. Lyons hung up a record for attendance and voting at the last legislative session. His excellent record will prove to be a great asset in the busi-

Large Crowd Sees Fistic Fracas; Next Show April 4th

Johnny Hughes Takes Beating from Davis in Wind-up Bout

Before the largest and most enthusiastic crowd to witness a fight at the Antioch Palace this season, Davis showed Johnny Hughes, Kenosha flash, what it was all about when he rallied in the third round of his wind-up battle Friday night in the local arena.

Fully aware that fate was against him, the Kenosha lad tore into his opponent at the start of the last round, but he forgot for a second and lowered his guard. It was all over when Davis sent Johnny on his heels. He had Hughes fanning the air throughout and at the same time was landing his left cross solidly to the body and face.

In the second round, honors were fairly even with the Kenosha battler having whatever shade there was. His opponent refusing to continue in the preliminary, Buddy Beyers, Twin Lakes, was given the decision on a technical knockout.

Although Beyers had a big chance of winning in the first round, the second one saw him holding only a slight margin.

Ernie Kratochvil, Racine, knocked out Frank Terry, Chicago, after one minute and five seconds of battling in the second round.

After a hot rally in the third round had evened things up, Johnny Taylor, Waukegan, won from Eddie Garlow, Kenosha, in four rounds by a narrow margin.

Sending several low punches at Billy Campbell, Grayslake, in spite of the yappings of Referee Jabber Young, Bob Terry, Chicago, was disqualified after one minute of fighting in the second round.

Bob Brown, Libertyville, gained the nod over Paul Searing in the fourth preliminary and Melvin Brenton, Burlington, won over Earl Hamrock, Kenosha.

The next fistic fracas at the local arena will take place on April 4, when the Chicago Golden winners will be pitted against Elgin's best.

Films of Wonder Lake Project to be Seen Here

Now it can be told!

At last the real facts about the great Northern Illinois lake development which has attracted nation-wide attention are to be given next Monday evening, March 31, at the Danish hall, Antioch, and illustrated by a set of motion picture films which are said by those who have seen them to be unlike anything ever shown before.

WINTER RETURNS; BRINGS SEASON'S WORST BLIZZARD

zard of snow and ice interfered with traffic, completely paralyzing it in some sections. It also battered the unprotected lake shore line and threatened to carry away some fifty acres of valuable lake front property on the high bluffs between the Great Lakes Naval Training station and Lake Bluff.

Nearly all day Tuesday and Wednesday train crews, street car workers, telephone, telegraph and Public Service company linemen were battling to keep the service going in the cities along the north shore.

In Chicago and elsewhere early workers who use street car service to go to work found the storm had so crippled the service that many were late in getting to work, while others battled the storm in long hikes to their places of employment.

Damage Property Along Shore

Along the shore from Great Lakes to Lake Bluff, however, there was grave danger that a large amount of valuable property would be swept into the lake. Situated on a high bluff some 50 acres of wooded property, valued at from $5,000 to $6,000 per acre for residential estates, was being undermined by waves beating against the clay cliffs. The water had eaten back under the land, leaving an overhanging ledge that threatened to give way and drop the land, trees, and everything on it down on the lake shore to be beaten and washed away by the waves.

Throughout the city of Chicago the snow was piled so high in slushy drifts, that school authorities deemed it feasible to close the schools; they will probably not re-open until Monday, it was reported this morning.

A Formula for Success...

OPPORTUNITY for success today is greater than ever before. The REQUIREMENTS to attain success, however, are more severe than they have been in the past. One of the fundamental requirements of success at the present time is KNOWLEDGE—EDUCATION.

There may, of course, be exceptions to the rule, but a careful analysis of the lives of hundreds of successful men and women show that during their life time over 95% have secured an education—have acquired superior knowledge. They may not have enjoyed the advantages of a college education, they may not even have enjoyed the privilege of attending school, but they have overcome these obstacles and ACQUIRED KNOWLEDGE—THEY HAVE EDUCATED THEMSELVES.

Most of our knowledge and education depends on reading. Whenever we leave our school or college, our education stops if we do not read. The educated person is the person who has simply kept up his reading.

People who feel they have no time to read are hampering their own opportunity to achieve a successful life. You can't afford not to read. A few minutes a day applied to good reading will enable any man or woman to acquire a very liberal education.

Among things to read, BOOKS come first. Nonfiction, biography and history especially, although good fiction has its place in a well ordered reading program. And the better the book, the better the reading.

Every home should have its books. The kind of books found in the home determine the cultural standard of the family, for as a man reads, so does he think. The books one reads become part of one's life. See that your children are provided with and read good books.

MAGAZINES rank next to books for reading. They contain the best in contemporary literature, they are educational and inspirational. Become a magazine reader.

No program of reading could be complete that did not include the NEWSPAPER. No man or woman can keep abreast with current progress—local, national and international—who neglects the newspaper.

Supplementing the collection of books in the home should be always the public library. No community should be without some kind of a public library. Its cards should be in every home. There should be one book upon its shelves for each inhabitant, and two children's books for each child in grade school. In addition, it should house the leading reference works and supply its readers with the best in the magazine world; should be centrally located, and, if necessary, operate branch libraries to handle the total needs of the community. REMEMBER, THE CIRCULATION OF PUBLIC LIBRARY BOOKS IS ONE OF THE ACID TESTS USED TO DETERMINE THE COMMUNITY STANDARD.

Make reading a part of your recreation. Reading means knowledge. Knowledge plus application means success. Let us make a "reading community" of

Reno's Odd Income

Matrimonial entanglements enriched Reno by more than $1,500,000 in 1929, according to an estimate by the county clerk, E. H. Beemer. He said the figure was conservative. Fifty dollars each was paid by 2,100 applicants for divorce as court fees and their attorneys charged $250 as a minimum retainer, while several paid between $10,000 and $25,000 for their decrees. The county clerk estimates living costs at $25 a week and each person had to reside within the county at least 90 days. With the 3,210 permits to wed issued during the same period, Beemer said newweds spent about $30,000 for the permits and fees to the ministers of the city.

Makes Life Sweeter

Children's stomachs sour, and need an anti-acid. Keep their systems sweet with Phillips Milk of Magnesia!

When tongue or breath tells of acid condition—correct it with a spoonful of Phillips. Most men and women have been comforted by this universal sweetener—more mothers should invoke its aid for their children. It is a pleasant thing to take, yet neutralizes more acid than the harsher things too often employed for the purpose. No household should be without it.

Phillips is the genuine, prescription product physicians endorse for general use; the name is important. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. registered trade mark of the Charles H. Phillips Chemical Co. and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

Foreign Bits of China

Unloading Soy Bean Cake at Dalren.

(Prepared by the National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.)

THE plan of Great Britain to return to China the territory of Wei-hai-wel which she has had under lease since 1898, and the insistence by China that other special privileges to foreign nations be abrogated, turns attention anew to the foreign patches maintained in China. These regions, which have actually been transferred, either by lease or cession, are not to be confused with the so-called "spheres of influence," which are more or less indefinite and many of which are not recognized by the Chinese.

What once threatened to be the great international "sport" of annexing parts of China began with the arrival of the first Europeans in the Far East. Those who blazed the trail around Africa, across the stormy Indian ocean, and up the east coast of Asia to rich Cathay, were the Portuguese. For half a century they came and went in their trading ships, but by 1577 they felt the need of a station to facilitate their commerce, and settled at Macao on the southern coast of China. A region of about four square miles was set aside for them partly as a reward for assistance in breaking up piracy in the nearby waters, and has been claimed by Portugal ever since. Formal transfer of this tiny fragment of China was made by the Chinese government in 1887.

Not only is Macao the site of the first European claim staked out on Cathay's coast, but it has cultural ties with Europe closer knit than the political relationships of controverted areas to the north. It contains the oldest ruin in China that is associated with Europe, and the tamarind and banyan shade the gardens where the Portuguese Chancel, Camoens, composed half of the Lusads, one of the half dozen world's great epics.

Inevitably, too, one associates the location of Macao, on a peninsula jutting from an island in the delta of the Canton river west of Hong Kong, with that colony of Portuguese Americans on the very tip of Cape Cod, made famous by Joseph Lincoln.

English Obtained Hong Kong.

More than two and a half centuries passed after the founding of Macao before China was again called upon in the name of commerce to give away more of her territory. By that time all the commercial nations of Europe, and the United States as well, were engaged in the remunerative China trade. Friction arose in the early part of the Nineteenth century between British traders and the Chinese, and after a war in which Great Britain was victorious, China, as a part of her indemnity, in 1842 gave Great Britain the island of Hong Kong, a few miles from Macao. This island with an area of 32 square miles and one of the best harbors in the world was actually ceded and became a part of the British empire. In 1860 Great Britain leased three square miles of territory on the mainland opposite Hong Kong and shortly afterward this, too, was ceded.

This island became the show colony of Great Britain in the Orient. It is a world port where celebrities and foreign war craft arrive so frequently that the din of official salutes is almost constantly echoing from the granite piers. It is next to the oldest and in many ways the model foreign-owned community in China.

Contrary to popular belief, there is no city of Hong Kong. That well-known name belongs to the island and the mainland. The city of half a million inhabitants which is the capital of the island and the colony is officially Victoria. But the name is seldom heard. To the islanders the beautiful terrace town is merely "the city."

Grabs by Other Nations.

After Great Britain acquired Hong Kong island and the patch of mainland there was a lull in the staking out of claims by foreign nations to Chinese territory. What may be called China's period of "intensive land losses" began in 1895 and extended to 1900, with five nations participating. At the conclusion of the Japanese-Chinese war in 1895, Japan not only obtained Korea, over which China claimed a protectorate, but also the large island of Formosa with an area of nearly 14,000 square miles, off the central Chinese coast.

From that time on the political pot boiled furiously among the nations wishing to follow in Japan's footsteps, and at one time the world was informed of a new lease of Chinese territory nearly every month. Germany tried to lease Kiaochow bay on the coast of Shantung in 1896, but China refused her offer. In November, 1897, Germany seized the bay ostensibly because two German missionaries had been killed in Shantung. In December the Russian Asiatic fleet steamed into Port Arthur, 200 miles north of Kiaochow, and announcement was made that it would winter there. In March, 1898, Germany obtained a 99-year lease of approximately 100 square miles on the shores of the bay which she had seized; and the same month Russia obtained a 25-year lease to Port Arthur and a part of the Liaotung peninsula, with the right to extend the lease.

Only a few weeks after the leases had been granted to Germany and Russia, Great Britain obtained a lease on the shores and Bay of Wei-hai-wel, almost equidistant between Port Arthur and Kiaochow. This British lease was not for a definite number of years but provided that it was to run for the period during which Russia should hold Port Arthur. Later in April France entered the competition and took a 99-year lease on the Bay of Kwang Chow and approximately 23 square miles of territory on the mainland.

In June Great Britain increased her holdings at Hong Kong by leasing for 99 years 350 square miles of additional territory on the mainland and additional islands aggregating 20 square miles in area. In November, 1899, France added to her lease at Kwang Chow a group of islands dominating the bay. Finally in 1900 came one of the most ambitious steps of all in the acquisition of territory—the occupation of Manchuria by Russia. This brought on the Russo-Japanese war after which both Russia and Japan removed their troops from Manchuria which reverted to China but with the provision that Japan should have certain economic concessions.

Changes Since World War.

There has been a greater mortality in the recently acquired foreign patches in China than in the earlier ones. When Manchuria reverted to China, Japan succeeded to Russia's claims to Port Arthur and the Liaotung peninsula, and obtained an extension of the lease to 99 years. The other territories remained with an unchanged status until the World War. Soon after the outbreak of hostilities Japan stormed and took the German leased territory of Kiaochow in Shantung.

The Kiaochow lease to Germany covered an area along the coast roughly ten or twelve miles in diameter. In addition there was a neutralized zone 33 miles wide skirting the entire Bay of Kiaochow. On the leased plot Germans had built a typical German town, Tsingtao. The agreement had included concessions to build railways outside the leased and neutral areas, in Shantung proper; and coupled with the railroad concessions was the right to exploit mines in zones twenty miles wide traversed by the railroads.

The 255-mile railway line from Tientsin to Tsinan, the capital of Shantung, was opened in 1904.

As a result of the adjustments since the World War, there are only five patches of China now formally governed by foreign nations. Three of these, Portuguese Macao, British Hong Kong, and Japanese Formosa, are owned outright by the governing nations. Of the long time leases, only Port Arthur and Kwang Chow remain. The former is under the control of Japan, the latter of France.

That Tired Feeling

A POPULAR song of some years ago carried the expressive line, "I'm so very, very, very tired." Since then we have seen the development of the tired business man, later the appearance of the tired business woman, and now one is introduced to the tired high school pupil!

It cannot be denied that today's ailments for both the old and the young are extremely fascinating. Nevertheless, the mature individual is not compelled by any law to be physically victimized by them. Common-sense and a measure of respect for one's physical well-being are all the restraints required, provided he employs them. But with the children it is a different proposition. Unquestionably today's high-speed recreations are consuming too much of the youngster's time and energy. And for this situation the parents are much to blame.

A recent examination disclosed that of 60,000 pupils in the higher grades, more than 21 per cent were seriously under weight. The majority of these deficient displayed undeniable signs of fatigue. Moreover, subsequent investigation indicated that most of these young people had self-determined their rest hours. Drawn to the night's pleasures like moths to a flame, they had little but their own immature judgment to guide them—and that had failed.

Too many evenings at movies, too many nights at dances, too many inhaled cigarettes, too few hours spent in bed and too much ill chosen food, are some of the factors that are causing school boys and girls to exclaim, "I am so very, very tired."

Feel tired yourself if you prefer it. But prevent the children from feeling that way even though they insist upon it. They may not like you for it now, but they'll thank you later on.

Look Out For This!

A MAN and his wife who apparently were in the best of health retired one night recently and never got up. Investigation indicated that asphyxiation was the cause of their deaths. Which suggests the fact that one need not step out of the house to get killed.

An individual may be ever so careful regarding the annual physical examination, the semi-annual dental visit, diet, rest, exercise, fresh air and the other living rules, and yet have all these things count for naught because of carelessness or thoughtlessness in the home.

For instance, millions who are using gas appliances must understand that even though the manufacturers have taken every precaution to prevent the misuse of their products, they are compelled to rely upon the exercise of ordinary care in their operation. That this fact is not properly appreciated is clearly indicated by the many accounts of asphyxiation.

Leaky gas pipes, worn out valves and especially deteriorated hose connections, in this manner, continue to take an entirely preventable toll of life.

Mechanical devices, no matter how perfectly manufactured, require a periodic overhauling and inspection. Lacking this attention it is easily possible for serious or fatal accidents to occur.

Don't imagine that modern household appliances, notwithstanding their scientific construction, can be purchased and then safely left for years without repairs. They cannot!

Remember this, also. Gas heaters need sufficient air for proper combustion. This is not possible to obtain in an unventilated room. Incomplete combustion means carbon monoxide. And carbon monoxide is appreciable quantities means death.

Feast for Thousands

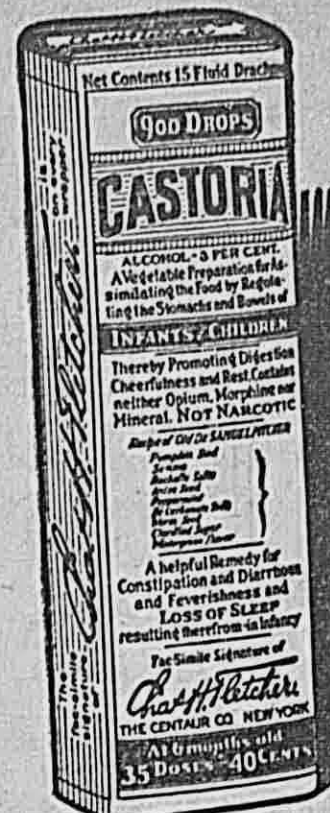

One of the biggest pots of soup ever made was a feature of a "gypsy party" which took place at Baildon, in Yorkshire, England, a short time ago.

Centuries ago there was an annual gathering of the gypsy tribes at Baildon. Later on the people of the district carried on the custom by having a gypsy camp of their own on the moor, preparing and eating a gypsy soup, and taking part in a number of ceremonies. This custom was revived, and the soup contained, among other ingredients, 500 pounds of meat, 600 pounds of peas, 300 pounds of potatoes, and 300 pounds of other vegetables.

Yorkshire seems to take a special delight in gargantuan repasts of this kind. Denby Dale is famous for its giant pies. One made some years ago contained the beef of four bullocks and fifteen hundredweight of potatoes. It was served to about 20,000 people, all of whom voted it excellent.

Preparing a giant dish of this kind is a ticklish job, but there was only one Denby Dale pie that was a failure. It was that baked in 1887, professional bakers being employed. Since then the women of Denby Dale have insisted on baking the pies themselves, and have always made a good job of it.

Children CRY for it

It may be the little stomach; it may be the bowels are sluggish. No matter what coats a child's tongue, its a safe and sensible precaution to give a few drops of Castoria. This gentle regulation of the little system soon sets things to rights. A pure vegetable preparation that can't harm a wee infant, but brings quick comfort—even when it is colic, diarrhea, or similar disturbance. And don't forsake Castoria as the child grows older. If you want to raise boys and girls with strong systems that will ward off constipation, stick to good old Castoria; and give nothing stronger when there's any irregularity except on the advice of a doctor. Castoria is sold in every drugstore, and the genuine always bears Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper.

Even if one is not exposed in his sin, there is the danger of black-mail.

To have more money than you know what to do with, encourages philanthropy.

Finds Youth's Fountain!

"JUST one thing has contributed more than anything else in my life toward making me the radiant happy woman I am today," writes Mrs. Walter Ruchl, of Glenbrook, Conn. "If this was selling at ten dollars a bottle instead of the few cents it costs, I would scrape the money together, and I don't mean maybe!"

"I guess a good many others feel the same way, judging by the number of people I know who swear by this 'Fountain of Youth.'"

Millions of people all over the world have discovered this simple secret, which is nothing but giving our bodies the internal lubrication that they need, as much as any machine. After you have taken Nujol for a few days, and have proved to yourself how it brightens your whole life, you will wonder how so simple a treatment can make such a great change in your health and your happiness. The reason is this:

Regularly as clock work, Nujol clears out of our bodies those poisons (we all have them) which slow us up, make us headachy, low in our minds.

Colorless and tasteless as pure water, Nujol cannot hurt you, no matter how long you take it. It is not a medicine. It contains no drugs. It forms no habit. It is non-fattening.

Try Nujol yourself and see how much better you feel. Get a bottle in its sealed package at any drug store and be sure it's trademarked "Nujol." It costs but a few cents—and it makes you feel like a million dollars! Start taking Nujol this very night!

If a mean man, is wise he will move out of the neighborhood instead of trying to live it down.

A girl can sometimes suddenly put a young man out of his misery by refusing to marry him.

Any COLD

That cold may lead to something serious, if neglected. The time to do something for it is now. Don't wait until it develops into bronchitis. Take two or three tablets of Bayer Aspirin as soon as you feel a cold coming on. Or as soon as possible after it starts. Bayer Aspirin will head off or relieve the aching and feverish feeling—will stop the headache. And if your throat is affected, dissolve two or three tablets in a quarter-glassful of warm water, and gargle. This quickly soothes a sore throat and reduces inflammation, and infection. Read proven directions for neuralgia, for rheumatism and other aches and pains. Genuine Bayer Aspirin is harmless to the heart.
